Important Information Regarding the Change of Name from burster präzisionsmesstechnik gmbh & co kg to burster Measurement Solutions GmbH

Dear Sir or Madam,

The change of name of our company, effective 1 October 2026, from burster präzisionsmesstechnik gmbh & co kg to burster Measurement Solutions GmbH has raised questions amongst some of our customers, service providers and business partners. In particular, uncertainties appear to have arisen in connection with changes to our credit ratings and our new bank details. We take this feedback very seriously.

We would therefore like to explain the background to this openly and convey a clear message to you:

The change of name was carried out purely for reasons relating to company law and organisational matters. It is not a sign of financial difficulties. burster is doing well – you can rest assured of that.

Why have we changed our name?

The reason for the name change is the reorganisation of our previous corporate structure under company law. The former companies, which had the legal form of a GmbH & Co. KG, have been merged into a single GmbH. As part of this process, burster präzisionsmesstechnik gmbh & co kg has been converted into burster Measurement Solutions GmbH.

This change enables us to establish a clear and uniform corporate structure. Our commitment to supporting our customers with precise measurement technology, high quality and reliable service remains unchanged.

What do the changed credit ratings mean?

We are aware that the re-registration of our company with credit reference agencies such as Creditreform has led to changes in our credit ratings. Such ratings may raise questions – particularly where the company's previous history and the new company data are not immediately reconciled.

We are therefore in contact with the main credit reference agencies to explain the background to the change in company law transparently and to ensure an accurate assessment of our new company. We are working to ensure that our corporate structure and the associated information are accurately and appropriately reflected by the credit reference agencies.

Why have our bank details changed?

Our bank details have also changed with effect from 1 October 2026. This change is due to requirements set by our holding company and is not related to any financial difficulties faced by our company.

For any new payments, please use only the current bank details shown on our invoices or in our official business correspondence.

Why do we have a new company registration number?

The new commercial register number is an important consideration following our change of name, as it may give customers and credit reference agencies the impression that a completely new company has been established. However, the reason for the new commercial register number is simply that the previous company structure was represented by two commercial register entries (HRA and HRB), whereas under the new company structure there is now only the GmbH, which is entered in the HRB.

What does this mean for our business relationship?

For you, as our customer, the essentials remain the same: burster continues to stand for precision, quality, technical expertise and a partnership-based approach.

The existing agreements and obligations have been taken over by burster Measurement Solutions GmbH. We will continue our business relationships on this basis. Our commitment to providing you with reliable support through our products and services also remains unchanged.

We know that trust is not built on words alone, but above all through reliability in our day-to-day dealings. That is why it is important to us to address your questions openly and to clear up any potential ambiguities at an early stage.

Should you have any questions regarding our change of name, credit information or your existing business relationships with us, please do not hesitate to contact us directly. We would be happy to explain the background to this personally.

We would like to thank you for your trust and for your cooperation to date. We look forward to continuing this successfully together with you as burster Measurement Solutions GmbH.

Yours faithfully,
